be ond BASSICS Changing Destiny Through Education www.beyondbasics.org	Finney High Schoo Students Review Art of the Journ By Don Tocco
	Alissa Grade: 11	"I would like to keep this book be- cause I am also a poet, and it brings ideas to my own work. It gave a message in every poem. It has a hook that pulls me in."
TO AIM	Kenyatta Grade: 12	"The most inspiring part of the book for me was the author's positive self-esteem."
be vond Be vond Cha Cha Cha Cha Cha Cha Cha Cha Cha Cha	Marcella Grade: 11	"The Black I really liked that poem. This poem is very im- portant to some kids in this world and it will be power for them."
	Nathaniel Grade: 12	"I would definitely recommend this book to others. This book has the power to spark interest in all. I feel it has something for everyone." rough Education	Jaliese Grade: 12	"I would like to keep this book be- cause I liked the inspirational po- ems. I learned something new af- ter reading Far Out. I now see that there's nothing wrong with being different."

	Sherise Grade: 11	"I would love to keep this book be- cause it's so positive and truthful!. I was very inspired by the poem, Black. Even though my skin is black, I am a child of God."
Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Changing Cha	Shallyse Grade: 11	"The poem The Lord Smiles taught me that a smile can change the world."
iny Thresigh Edit	Andarais Grade: 11	"I would recommend this book be- cause it has some really good poems in it that explain life's problems."
photo not available	Ruth Grade: 11	"T he Lonely Leaf was very inspir- ing. If you are alone, you still can have hope and you don't have to rely on other people to make you happy."

For more information on Beyond Basics, please visit our website at www.beyondbasics.org